

Swiss commerce is proud to offer our members a wide range of benefits. Membership provides art galleries, designers, and home decorators the opportunity to show their support of our goal while receiving the following range of exciting benefits:

- Have an active role in influencing the evolution and direction of the oriental art industry.
- Use your membership to encourage improved, standardized, integration of ideas and the creation of a community to improve interoperability.
- Expand your business by connecting your product database, in part or completely, to the main database of Swiss Commerce at AAARugs.com.
- Receive online assistance to design and develop a fully independent web site. Our talented IT department consists of graphic designers, database specialists, and programmers who can complete all of your web-related projects, including TV commercials with special animations. Their service is primarily for Swiss Commerce members, however it is also open to the public for special needs.
- Share opportunities for marketing and building contacts with industry participants. Enjoy the products and services offered by other Swiss Commerce members at a significantly lower price.
- Participate in our lively message boards.
- Find common ground with others who share the passion of supporting oriental art.
